CONTENT OF MASTERCLASS:

Preparatory training for the body to be open and receptive to the effective usage of relaxation and improvisation techniques.

Through simple and organic exercises Swee Boon revisits the fundamental elements of dance training and performance. This includes keeping the body grounded and the breath controlled, tapping on a deeper understanding of individual self, being conscious of evoking movement and impulses from deep within the body to form the kinesthetic expression and using the body's rhythmic flow and our external surroundings to greatest effect. As the workshop progresses, the class may also incorporate excerpts of T.H.E's repertoire to illustrate and develop these concepts.
